PRESIDENT'S COLUMN

August 2, 2014, FCFI Presidents Address
 FCFI 21st Annual Conference, Covington, KY

Greeting fellow Christian sojourners,
 This article seeks to motivate all members to "Actively Engaged Discipleship" in 2015! The FCFI Conference Planning Committee selected Mark 9:35, "Anyone who wants to be first must take last place and be the servant of everyone else," as this year's Conference theme. We hope all members will grab hold of this challenging verse and apply it in the areas of Farm Show Evangelism, Rapid Relief Response if disaster hits and/or joining in on a winter FCFI mission trip. As you proceed in love, be aware of those around you by loving God, loving the people with whom we serve, and loving those we serve. To follow are insightful highlights from this year's workshops.

How well are we doing, really, at loving God? When God looks at us individually, does He see a heart that wholly and truly loves Him or a half hearted heart? Our life's response to The Great Commandment is critical. Dave Carter, FCFI member and farmer from Kokomo, IN, lead a whole workshop at the Conference on Growing Deeper into Christian Discipleship. He stressed disciplined-daily-devotion and recommended Oswald Chambers' book, My Utmost for His Highest as a guide. Building on Dave's suggestion, I'll let March 3rd conclude my point. If you don't have a copy of this insightful, daily devotion, call the FCFI office for a free copy while supply lasts.

Loving those with whom we serve is an uplifting joy. Not lovingly relating to those closest to us in our life journey drains and depresses us, destroying plans and pursuits. In our Mark 9:35 theme verse, Jesus directs us to be "the servant of everyone else". Plain and simple, this means making ourselves available to other people, particularly other Christians. Andy Dahlquist, Idaho FCFI member, former college math professor and 35

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S COLUMN

This issue of Profit magazine can be used as a worksheet to plan your late fall and winter ministry plans.

The 2014-2015 Mission trip schedule is on pages 6-7. The Fellowship is returning to Haiti thanks to our ministry partner, Global Compassion Network. Sukup Safety Homes will be assembled on the trip and low input food production will be developed in Haiti. Lord willing, Dave Carter and Joe Bachman will lead small teams to Torreon, Mexico to rekindle our friendships with our Mexican brothers and sisters. Due to violence, FCFI has not been to Mexico since February 2009. George and Julie Holmes are planning their 21st winter in Albania in a wonderful mission setting.

The farm show schedule is bigger than ever. Your continued support of the Fellowship's outreach events is needed. The Lord is continuing to bless the opportunity to share the gospel at farm shows in New Zealand. New Zealand is celebrating 200 years since an Australian farmer named, Samuel Marsden, preached the gospel in the Bay of Islands in December 1814. FCFI has been part of the this year long, nationwide outreach campaign, called "Hope Project NZ" www.alltogether.co.nz

Thank you for your faithful prayer and financial support of the Fellowship of Christian Farmers, International. We are praying for your safety as you harvest crops this fall. See you soon at a farm show near you.

RAPID RESPONSE DISASTER RELIEF

During the 20th FCF International Conference in Cincinnati, keynote speaker, Tim Haas, National Director of Samaritan's Purse, observed that FCFI could use some additional equipment in its long term recovery in rural America. Tim had arrived in Cincinnati from a Samaritan's Purse first response campaign in New York and New Jersey following Tropical Storm Sandy. Ministry was difficult for Tim and the entire Samaritan's Purse team. Time spent with farmers at the 20th International Conference was an encouragement to Tim and his wife. The Fellowship has worked with Samaritan's Purse in several storms, most recently in Greeley, Colorado following record flooding on the South Platte River. Samaritan's Purse is a tremendous ministry partner.

In March Tom Fitschen and Dave Stutzman from Illinois drove to North Wilkesboro, North Carolina to meet Tim Haas at the Samaritan's Purse headquarters. Samaritan's Purse donated a 40 foot "toy hauler" style trailer that will serve as a command trailer for future FCFI disaster relief campaigns. The trailer features a living quarters in the front and a cargo area in the rear. The rear door drops into a ramp allowing equipment to be driven into the trailer.

A corporate or individual sponsor is needed to "wrap" the new Command Trailer as shown on the Profit Cover. The vinyl wrap would update the trailer and has space for a company logo.

The living quarters features a couch, table, kitchen and restroom complete with a toilet and shower. The queen size bed sets up over the fifth wheel hitch. Couples are needed to commit to several weeks of service to help volunteer teams as they arrive to work in a disaster setting. Team leaders direct the projects, but key leadership is needed to staff the Command Trailer as disasters take place.

Samaritan's Purse built storage shelves and tool cabinets into the cargo area of the new Command Trailer. FCFI needs to assess how this area needs to be set up for tool storage and equipment hauling. The trailer needs a generator. FCFI has riveted the exterior aluminum siding panels that were originally glued together in 2006. One three foot panel was replaced near the side entry door. Lord willing, this "farm shop" area can develop as we face future disasters. The fifth wheel hitch is equipped to receive a 2 5/16th's ball. Whether to use farmer trucks or find a used Ford F-350 flatbed type truck to dedicate to pulling the unit is under consideration. Pray for wisdom in this area.

21ST ANNUAL FCFI CONFERENCE - COVINGTON, KY

year shepherd of 4400 sheep, challenged the seasoned Christians at the 2014 FCFI Conference to share their knowledge of God and His ways with others through "mentoring". A mentor is a trusted advisor. A mentor, usually an older person, carefully conveys their guiding knowledge through one on one or small group settings. Andy encouraged us to engage mentoring by highlighting many enjoyable benefits of this discipleship technique for both the student and the teacher. Recently, the FCFI Board elevated meeting in small groups as a major mission goal. On a related note, Jeremy Stout, pastor of Bible Baptist Church, of Marysville, Ohio led a workshop based on results in his congregation and reports from FCFI Farm Show Evangelism in both Canada the USA confirming a growing cooperation between FCFI Chapters and local Church congregations which is yielding greater soul winning results.

Loving those we serve expands our heart. First John 3:18 seems to help me grasp a higher grip when he says, "...let's stop saying we love each other, let us really show it by our actions". Geri Campbell, founder of In Step Ministries Theater Productions, encouraged attendees to love others with a love so strong and faithful it cannot be stopped even when we are rejected and hurt repeatedly by those we serve. The story of Gomer illustrated her point. Learn more from her and FCFI's website.

That's all for now fellow sojourners. I hope to see you along The Way.

In Christ's love, Todd Brace

Area Leader Bill Brown, from Marcy, New York, was a workshop speaker at the 21st FCF International Conference in Cincinnati, Ohio. Bill Brown and his wife, Kathy, organize farm show exhibits in New York and throughout New England. In 2000 Bill Brown led the expansion of FCFI to Canada. Today, hundreds of farm show events take place throughout the provinces. Bill's workshop encouraged all to get involved in local outreaches and form local chapters.

Area Leader Walter Powell, Omega, Georgia, was the worship leader for the Sunday Service at the 21st FCF International Conference. Walter and his wife, Becky, represent the Fellowship at farm shows and chapter meetings throughout the southeast USA. The Sunbelt Ag Expo in Moultrie, Georgia, October 14-16th is one of the largest farm show outreaches FCFI organizes. 8,000 people will hear the gospel and get a wordless walking stick during the three days. Many will pray to receive Christ as Saviour.

Paul Herrold, Westville, Indiana presented the ministry opportunities to share the love of the Lord in the midst of a tornado disaster. Paul and his wife, Sarah, are shown with their family in Washington, Illinois. Washington, Illinois had an EF-4 tornado on November 17, 2013. Paul arrived to work with a team of 8 men on the first day volunteers were allowed to enter the city.

Area Leader Gary Beery, Radnor , Ohio was a workshop speaker at the 21st FCFI International Conference in Cincinnati. Gary represents the Fellowship in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Kentucky. One of the ministries "stick piles" is at Gary's place. The National Farm Machinery Show, Farm Science Review, Michigan Ag Expo, and the National FFA Expo are coordinated by Gary Beery, just to name a few. The National FFA Expo is October 29-31 in Louisville, Kentucky. Pray for Gary as he leads this outreach among the 55,000 FFA members expected to attend this year's Convention.

The Conference Auction has been a lot of fun as people bid on farm antiques, quilts, honey, maple syrup, and home preserves. Bob Carpenter, Dean Baker and Jim Wish , shown on the right, worked the crowd for bids to raise funding for the FCFI ministry.

TORREON, MEXICO

The Fellowship of Christian Farmers, International suspended its Mexico Mission trip schedule after the February 2009 trips to Torreon, Mexico. Local church planting missionaries Rev. Edward Williamson and Pastor Antonio Gomez recommended to the FCFI Board of Directors that it was too dangerous for farmers to travel to Torreon. In July 2014 Joe & Judy Bachman and Rachel Schlager flew to Torreon at the invitation of Pastor Gomez. Lord willing, small groups of 4-5 farmers will resume Mexico Mission trips in January 2015 to assist our many Mexican pastoral friends and their families. Exact trip dates will be announced as soon as possible.

Joe and Judy Bachman with longtime friends Pastor Rumaldo and his wife, Rebecca. Their youngest daughter, Karen, is shown on the left. Pastor Rumaldo, was the senior Pastor at the Mon Clova Bible College in 1989 when FCFI first travelled to Mexico.

Many FCFI Mexico Mission trips have been hosted by Felipe and Maria. Their son, Enrique and family are planning to build a church and are inviting farmers to come to Mexico to help build it. Enrique has been mentored by Pastor Rumaldo.

This is a photo of Pastor Tony's church in 2009. The walls have been completed and now rooms for Sunday School and the Amigo de Samuel school need to be built. FCFI teams could build with our Mexican brothers and sisters inside the walls of the compound. Teams would stay with church families instead of motels.

Pastor Antonio Gomez expressed his desire to have FCFI teams return to Torreon. "The devil has been running through the streets of Torreon long enough. It is time to accommodate the growth of the church during this stressful time in Mexico." Pastor Tony explained. Sixteen church members have been killed in senseless violence in the past two years. The church has grown over 200 people in that same time.

FARM PROGRESS SHOW - BOONE, IA

The Fellowship of Christian Farmers, International tent is up with flags from around the world flying, welcoming guests at the Farm Progress Show, August 26-28th in Boone, Iowa. Thirty-one FCFI members from, Iowa, Illinois, Florida, Indiana, Nebraska, Tennessee, Missouri, and Wisconsin traveled to Boone, Iowa to be part of the outreach team. Hidden Acres Christian Center in rural Dayton, Iowa provided three nights lodging for FCFI.

Christian music group, "Heart Song" from Fairmont, Minnesota performed nine times throughout the Farm Progress Show. Doug and Judy Peterson, who farm near East Chain, MN lead the group and presented show goers with free CD's of Heart Song.

The Lord provided three fluent Spanish speakers to share the gospel message with Argentine farmers. One of the Spanish speakers was Rachel Schlagel, shown right, who also got to interact with farm families from Argentina.

Duane Reynolds, Litchfield, Nebraska, shares the wordless walking stick message with two Iowa farmers at the Farm Progress Show in Boone, Iowa. Rainfall cancelled the third day of the FPS. Rain also caused cancellations at the Husker Harvest Days one week later in Grand Island, Nebraska.

Peggy Korn, center, from Brownsville, Tennessee, interacts with a farm couple at the Farm Progress Show. Peggy and her husband, Nick, are active workers at farm shows where FCFI has an exhibit. The Korns plan to attend the National FFA Expo, October 29-31st in Louisville, Kentucky.

NEW ZEALAND FIELDDAYS

New Zealand Christians are celebrating the 200th anniversary of Samuel Marsden's preaching the gospel in the Bay of Islands, Northland in 1814. Marsden was a Prison Chaplain and farmer in New South Wales, Australia. His farming operation included 2900 acres of land and livestock. A nationwide evangelism campaign called, "Jesus-All about Hope" is underway to reach all households in New Zealand with the gospel message. The Fellowship of Christian Farmers, International NZ has been part of this campaign with outreach exhibits at the Southern Field Days in Southland last February and at National Fielddays in June near Hamilton on the North Island. 2470 people heard the gospel in the FCFI NZ tent this year.

A framed style tent , 3 m X 6 m, with six flags representing countries that attend National Fielddays was used at this year's exhibit. FCFI NZ had a great location at a crossroads of traffic with no neighboring exhibitors beside us.

Our team of six Capernway Bible School students from Canada, New Zealand, and Wisconsin in front of the FCFI NZ tent exhibit at National Fielddays, June 11-14 in Hamilton.

Carrie Ireland, right, was our team leader from Capernway. Carrie is from Te Awamutu, NZ and is an intern with Capernway Bible School this semester. She is seminary trained and is seeking the Lord's direction in her life regarding how to serve Him.

This young lady and her husband visited the FCFI NZ tent this year to tell us she accepted Christ in the Fielddays tent last year. She and her husband are growing in the Lord and are plugged into a church recommended by Capernway. It was thrilling to hear her testimony.

Farmers in the Gordonton area teamed up to cut 2400 walking sticks.

One of the Capernway lecture halls was converted into a final wordless walking prep station. Final sanding and the rawhide bracelets were tied onto the walking sticks. Bundles of 25 sticks were taped together for easy transport to the farm show.

FCF - CANADA

On any given weekend this summer, somewhere in Canada there was an FCF booth sharing the gospel, whether at a small country fair or street festival with a few hundred visitors to our booth, or a large trade show like Expo Cité Québec or the International Plowing Match where we share the gospel with thousands. What diversity in the people we spoke to: people of different ages from many different religious and cultural backgrounds, yet all needing a Saviour. Our hearts were touched and encouraged by the testimonies from our volunteers.

International Plowing Match, Ivy, Ontario: One of our largest shows, this exposition changes its venue every year - always somewhere in the province of Ontario. This was the first event in Canada with an FCF witness, starting in the year 2000 when Bill Brown brought a truckload of sticks to Canada. This year 7,500 people came through our tent at the five day-show.

Our Quebec fieldman, Sylvain Couture, reports: 2014 has kept us very busy: more than 10 training sessions for volunteers in different areas of Québec, where more than 50 churches were represented, and over 200 people were trained, without counting the dozens who were trained through our filmed training session that is on our French website. Over the past two years, we place a lot of emphasis on training and we see the results in our booths. Our volunteers arrive at the booth much better prepared now, and not only is the Gospel presented more clearly, but with an attitude inspired by the fruit of the spirit.

Our chapters are growing and maturing rapidly. We see the hand of God accompanying and leading them in their mission consisting of reaching the lost for Jesus. We can see that God uses FCFC not only as an evangelization ministry, but also as a school for making disciples.

We are reaching a new generation who never heard about the Gospel or very little. By the end of the year we will have had a booth in about 30 events, 4 of them for the first time. Amongst these, Expo Cité Québec in the town of Quebec City, an event which attracts more than 300 000 visitors in 10 days.

In conclusion, the work continues to expand: more and more churches and Christians are getting involved, we reach more and more people with the Gospel, and many Christians believe that we are involved in nothing less than a Spiritual Revival.

All the Glory goes to our Lord and Saviour!

I'm sitting on the front balcony of my home at 7, in the evening sun, reflecting back on the 4 incredible days I spent at the Agrifair (Abbotsford). As we discussed when you were here, praise God, I've never seen myself as a gunslinger for Jesus but was energized and excited about His promises that His Word would not return void and His Gospel is the power unto salvation.

It just staggers me that because we were faithful in doing our part, sharing the Gospel to the thousands of people that got walking sticks, bracelets, necklaces, hockey sticks or just a friendly smile, God will do what He promised to do and who knows how many countless people we will see in eternity because God graciously used us last weekend. To Him be the glory!

Westerner Days, Red Deer, Alberta: FCFC members shared the gospel with 650 people, including these three teens posing with Donna Hegge (cowboy hat), FCFC director from Alberta.
